

Faculty Affairs and Professional Development

---

Teaching Specialties Series

For all faculty with teaching responsibilities.

These are scheduled, one week, asynchronous, online courses that run via Canvas.

- Access key content resources
- Learn recommended pedagogies
- Discuss cases with colleagues via online modalities
- Ask expert faculty teachers your questions

Mentoring I*

Faculty participants will be able to understand the responsibilities of the mentor/mentee, understand communication impact and styles, and learn how to develop a mentoring agreement and IDP.

- 4/30-5/4

Lecturing I*

From planning to delivery, this interactive workshop will help participants identify best practices for the particular contexts of their lecturing and avoid common pitfalls. This version of Effective Lecturing will be offered as a week-long online course via Canvas. You will receive a link to the course site prior to the beginning of the course.

- 5/14-5/18

Providing Effective Feedback I*

Faculty will learn to increase the effectiveness of their feedback to trainees.

- 5/21-5/25

Facilitating Small Groups*

In facilitation, the instructor should be the "guide on the side," encouraging and helping learners to take ownership of the learning session. This version of Facilitating Small Groups will be offered as a week-long online course via Canvas. You will receive a link to the course site prior to the beginning of the course.

- 5/28-6/1

*Note: this content is covered as part of Teaching at PSOM 101. Not recommended for those who have already completed Teaching at PSOM 101.