It's All About Making the Connection

At JLABS, we are passionate about helping healthcare startups succeed, and that means more than providing state-of-the-art lab space and equipment. Our resident companies have access to a wealth of Johnson & Johnson resources and internal expertise in pharmaceuticals, medical devices and consumer products – and across all of our therapeutic areas. And because it's a “no-strings-attached” model, companies gain access to the broader Johnson & Johnson Family of Companies and expertise while retaining intellectual property and decision-making freedom. JLABS is designed to remove hurdles to success and empower life science innovators through infrastructure, community and specialized expertise. Our resident startups build the confidence to reach their entrepreneurial goals and make a lasting difference in the lives of patients. We exist to support you.

“Supporting early stage innovators with a place to work and resources to run their business ultimately benefits the global life-science ecosystem.”
