A famous writer, a magazine editor, and a lowly fact-checker disagree about the meaning of words, truth, and art. This play comedy pits the three against one another and chaos ensues. Based on the book by John D 'Agata and Jim Fingal – the real-life writer and fact-checker – The Lifespan of a Fact explores meaningful questions about truth vs. art.

Following the performance, Lantern Artistic Director Charles McMahon and the cast will hold a special Artists In Conversation talkback for participating PENN faculty members and their guests.

For Penn Faculty, the Lantern offers preferred seating at $30 per ticket with promo code PENN30. Use the code to purchase tickets on-line at The Lifespan of a Fact (select seats, click NEXT 3 times, then enter the code into the DISCOUNT box) or by calling the Lantern's box office at 215-829-0395. PENN30 will expire on 2/15/23.
